

THE POETICAL MEMORY

AN ESSAY

I AM one of those silly people (there are a lot of them—quite enough to make it pay) who are so irritated at the arrival of a bill that I nearly always throw it on the fire. For all that, I had been humbly proud of my memory, and it was an awful shock to me one morning when I received this bill,

Indeed, I wrote and said so.

But alas! my poor memory was most certainly at fault.

Sir

In reply to your letter respecting your account we beg to enclose statement herewith, from which you will see that the £5 you handed to our Assistant was in payment of your old account, the various items of which ranged from October 1906 to September 1907, and statements of which had been rendered to you each quarter. This payment of £5 left a balance of 6/6, and with the 13/6 charged for repairing the old Watch and £8/10/- for repairing Brit Case, the total of your account to date is £9.10/-.

With regard to the item of £8/10/- we cannot understand how you come to be under the impression that it should only be £5, as we are certain our Assistant did not quote this latter price for doing up the Brit Case.

Trusting that this explanation will make the matter quite clear to you,

We beg to remain, Sir,

Your obediently,

E. A. Crowley, Esq.,
